“Father Time” seems to have hit the “passing gear” and went full throttle through the 2017 season of shows and cruises!

Our Fall Wrap Up Show was fantastic. We had beautiful weather, a great turn out and a wide variety of beautiful rides. We could not have asked for a better way to close another great summer of celebrating our love of the collector car hobby.

I met and talked with many of the owners and had some wonderful conversations. It was so great to hear the stories of their rides and see the smiles as they told their “car crazy” stories. As varied as the cars and trucks are, so are the owners. They come from all walks of life with a myriad of backgrounds and interests. However, one constant is indisputable: Their love of these machines with internal combustion engines prevails.

I was 16 years of age when a car finally came into our family. Never the less, I had a craving to ride, even before then. As I listened to our fellow “hot rodders” talk about their early childhood memories of cars, I began to believe our hobby is so unique to a generation. The modern vehicles of today have developed their own following with a much different approach to “hot rods.” However, there is one thing that may never change. Car enthusiasts love to burn rubber!

2017 has been a great year for Del Rods and I see no reason why this trend will not continue. Thank you for allowing me to represent you and our club.
